

Monitoring of the achievement of the health-related Millennium Development Goals

The Sixty-first World Health Assembly,

Recalling the 2005 World Summit Outcome and the commitments taken by the international community to fully implement the Millennium Development Goals;

Concerned by the relatively slow progress made, especially in the sub-Saharan African countries, in achieving the Millennium Development Goals, and in particular the health-related Goals;

Concerned by the fact that achievement of Millennium Development Goals varies from country to country and from goal to goal;

Concerned that the high rate of morbidity and mortality are underpinned by social determinants of health and high levels of malnutrition and noting that these social determinants of health may further undermine achievements of the health-related Millennium Development Goals;

Recalling the General Assembly resolution 60/265 dated 12 July 2006 on follow-up to the development outcome of the 2005 World Summit, including the Millennium Development Goals and the other internationally agreed development goals, and the WHO Medium-term strategic plan 2008–2013;

Welcoming the Secretariat's report on monitoring achievement of the health-related Millennium Development Goals;<sup>1</sup>

Underlining in particular the need to build sustainable national health systems; strengthen national capacities; fully honour financing commitments made by national governments and their development partners in order to better fill many of the resource gaps in the health sector; to take concrete, effective and timely action in implementing all agreed commitments on aid effectiveness and to increase predictability of aid;

Reaffirming the commitments by many developed countries to achieve the target of 0.7% of gross national income for official development assistance by 2015 and to reach at least 0.5% of gross national income for official development assistance by 2010, as well as the target of 0.15% to 0.20%
